

It all fits. Especially when you recycle everything on the ultimate list.

Beverage bottles and cans

Bottles: green, brown, and clear glass food and beverage containers

Bottles: plastic # 1-7

Cans: steel, aluminum, and bimetal food and beverage containers

Cardboard

Cardboard backs on packaging

Cardboard packaging

Cardboard tubes

Catalogs

Cereal boxes

Cleaning solution bottles (but no aerosol cans)

Clear clamshell containers

Computer paper

Envelopes

Food and beverage bottles, jars and cans (glass, plastic, metal)

Food and beverage boxes

Food and beverage cartons

Food tubs

Gel bottles

Greeting cards

Hand soap bottles

Hydrogen peroxide bottles

Jars: green, brown, and clear glass food and beverage containers

Jars: plastic # 1-7

Juice boxes

Junk mail

Lotion bottles

Magazines

Makeup bottles and jars

Makeup remover bottles

Medicine bottles

Milk jugs and cartons (yes, the paper kind!)

Mouthwash bottles

Newspaper

Newspapers

Notebook paper

Paper

Paper bags

Paper price tags from clothing

Paper towel rolls

Paperboard packaging (like the cardboard back on a toothbrush package and the toothpaste box)

Pasta boxes

Perfume bottles

Phone books

Plastic food containers and packaging # 1-7

Plastic spray bottles

Postcards

Rubbing alcohol bottles

Salad containers (the clear kind, not the foam type)

Scrap paper

Shampoo bottles

Shower gel bottles

Soda cans

Soup cans

Soup cans and boxes (yes, the paper kind!)

Spice bottles (plastic and glass)

Stationary

Sticky notes

Take-out soup containers (the clear plastic kind, not the foam type)

Tissue boxes

Toilet paper roll

Unsoiled pizza boxes (the "unsoiled" part is important!)

Wrapping paper

Yogurt cups